

Gavin Clark, one of the original Phantoms, is leaving the club. He has decided to move back to his native north east to spend more time with his son, Callum, a rising star on the junior hockey scene, currently playing for the Northern Conference. Gavin started playing hockey as a junior himself, then after several years out, returned to the sport as a member of the Flintshire Falcons. Obviously, living so far away makes it a bit difficult to remain a Phantoms member but he is not giving up hockey, he's looking to join another club over there. Gav's parting words, "...thanks again for helping me back into hockey. GO PHANTOMS!!". We'll keep trying. Good luck and best wishes for the future from all of the Phantoms.
